FINANCIAL. Money is so plentiful and easy that the are very commonly accepting 8 per ent, from customers; the quotation is 8@10. and applications few, with banks doing but a stight amount of business yesterday. Exchange was plentiful-14 discount buying, and M premium selling on New York; New Orleans buying at 14 discount, and selling at par. The New York Bulletin, of Thursday, reported: "New York exchange was quoted as follows at the places named: Savannah-& premium. Charleston, buying at par, selling at 3-16@1/2 premium. St. Louis, 75 premium. New Orleans-commercial, 16; bank, par. Boston, 121/4 discount, Chicago, 75 to 80 premium." The price of double eagles in London is reported to be 76 shillings and 334 pence per ounce; with this the price, gold coin (double eagles) will be shipped from here to London whenever demand bills cannot be below 48914. With demand selling at or above 48914, export movement of gold will be free.

are, therefore, at or near the gold shipping point. There may come a time when New lock will be full bonds, and when banks and other money lenders will prefer to have fewer of them in their collaterals; that time has not yet arrived however. The new four per cent. bonds could be obtained in this market today and yesterday 14@34 below the price at which the treasury can by law sell; so that subscribers at the treasury are either anxious to waste a little money or are uninformed as Secretary Sherman thinks that resumption could be accomplished in July if desired. In our local stock market nothing of interest could be gleaned. [BY TELEGRAPH.] PARIS, March 23.-Rentes, 109f. 80c. NEW ORLEANS, March 23.-Gold, 1013/

St. Louis Republican, Friday: "An inci dent connected with the terrible acciden upon the river last fall, near Jefferson bar racks, by which one woman and two or three children lost their lives, is worthy of notice. The accident referred to was the running down of a small barge by the steamer Grand Lake. Two men and one woman barely escaped with their lives, and reached the residence of a widow Barber in a most pitiable condition, having lost as relatives a wife, sister and children, and also all of their earthly essions. The men afterward came up to Carondelet as abject specimens of poverty as that part of the city has ever seen upon its streets. They were provided with passes back and forth between Carondelet and the city, and, after a few trips, compromised with the company owning the steamer for one hundred and twenty-five dollars. One of the men, named Coakley, continued, however, to linger around the hospitable mansion of the widow, where they were cared for after the nearts were beginning to beat as one. A marriage was the result, and the survivor, Coakley, is now the stepfather of Lillie Bar-ber, who is prosecuting Policeman Doherty publishes a special dispatch announcing the sinking of the James W.
